IN TIER-2/3/4 CITIES OF INDIA,
GROCERY SHOPPING IS SOCIAL, RATHER THAN A CHORE

90%

Of Grocery Shopping happens
offline through Kiranas and Grocery Stores.

01 Shopping is a social engagement and break from isolation

chance to connect with the outside world

02 Kirana stores are generationally trusted

Bharat stayed loyal to their local Kirana bhaiya — The one who knows their family's tea preference.

01 The store isn't just a place to shop - it’s a community bulletin board

The big players ignored this bond.
We’re building around it.

..BUT CONVENIENCE IN THESE CITIES STILL HIDES THE UNDERLYING CHAOS FOR CUSTOMERS

QUICK COMMERCE SURGED IN INDIA'S METROS — ZEPTO, BLINKIT, INSTAMART.

BUT IN ITS RUSH, IT SKIPPED OVER 90% OF INDIA.

01

90% CUSTOMERS STILL SHOPS FROM KIRANA STORES -

- No tech.
- No data.
- No real-time visibility.

02

YET THESE STORES AREN'T BROKEN- THEY'RE JUST DISCONNECTED.

- Still trusted.
- Still visited every day.
- Still running on pen and paper.

THINK UBER BEFORE UBER.
TAXIS WEREN'T DEAD — JUST DISORGANIZED.
KIRANA STORES ARE NEXT.
SCATTERED, YES — BUT DEEPLY ROOTED AND INCREDIBLY POWERFUL.
